Millésime 2022 : de très jolies notes et commentaires

Domaine René Bouvier 2022 Charmes-Chambertin GC

This has a majestic nose of Marasca cherries, cassis and black tea. The structure is sublime with powdery tannins and tingly acidity, yet there is real oomph from the fruit concentration underneath the easy-going veneer. Not for nothing, it's the terroir shining through as this sits in Mazoyères.

Domaine René Bouvier 2022 Echézeaux GC

Dazzling with its fruit purity on the nose, this exudes bramble, blueberries and campfire smoke. The tannins are silky smooth and the on-point acidity is gracefully integrated. The oak treatment is very gentle, and the finish is sustained and chalky. I'd put the brakes on pulling the cork for five or six years.

René Bouvier 2022 Clos Vougeot GC

Very much a textbook Clos Vougeot style aromatically, this shows off with upfront notes of black forest cake, woody spice and forest floor. The tannins here, however, are very refined and proper, nicely supporting the robust flavors into the lengthy finish. Bernard Bouvier's style with his domaine wines also works very nicely with this Clos Vougeot. Nice juice.

Domaine René Bouvier 2022 Chambolle-Musigny PC Les Fuées

Not yet racked, this was a joyous expression of fruit and terroir. Cranberry, rhubarb, spice bazaar and fresh mushroom mesh on the palate. The tannins are discreet and pillowy with the vivid acidic freshness doing the real lift. These vines sit high on the slope and near Bonnes-Mares.

Domaine René Bouvier 2022 Gevrey-Chambertin PC Combe au Moine

Enticingly scented, this begins with berry fruit preserves, black plum skins and damp earth. This is a cool site, perched high on the slope with chilly breezes, but this year the wine feels pleasantly plush and its extra ripeness gives it another notch up in complexity. The tannins are fine and ripe, and the acidity is nicely nestled into the voluminous fruit.

Domaine René Bouvier 2022 Gevrey-Chambertin PC Les Champeaux

This is a quintessential Gevrey nose with fireplace embers, black currants and tobacco. There is light extract, notable mid-palate muscle and a smooth, long finish. Everything here is nicely in place, but this will be even better in a year or two. These vines sit high on the hillside against the border of Brochon.
